INSTALLATION

- > Remove stock oem throttle cable from throttle lever assembly and engine connection. Take note of routing location for reference when installing the RSI cable. Retain oil pump and throttle lever side C-clips.
- > Attach throttle lever end of cable through throttle block assembly into throttle lever and secure with stock C-clip.
- > Install the cable in the same routing location as the stock oem cable.
Secure cable to the oil pump connection (if applicable).
- > Adjust oil pump using in line cable adjuster to the factory specification.
- > Secure cable to carburetor / throttle body and adjust using adjustment nuts to the factory specification.
- > Double check adjustments to make sure proper full throttle and idle functions are operating correctly before starting or riding snowmobile.
- > Double check oil pump (if applicable) is operating properly before riding snowmobile.
- > Wrap cable with heat tape anywhere cable is too close to exhaust system to prevent any type of melting / safety issues.
- > NOTE
RSI Cable # TC-5 for Yamaha snowmobiles Mountain Max 600 & 700, Viper, SRX 700, XTC, XT, and Vmax. DO NOT take apart the RSI cable at the in-line adjuster. Yamaha instructs you to take apart the factory cable at the adjuster, DO NOT DO THIS WITH THE RSI CABLE. Install the cables per the above instructions and adjust cables with the in-line adjusters assembled on the cable.
- > Go enjoy you're new RSI Extended Throttle Cables.
